experienced or witnessed please contact your local centre
(opposite page)

What is this initiative about?

ENAR Ireland is working with community organisations to provide an independent system so you can report Racism anonymously and without any fear. Many people experiencing Racism or who witness a racist incident don't have an opportunity to report it. ENAR Ireland is the European Network Against Racism in Ireland and is currently working with a range of organisations throughout communities in Ireland to insure that people experiencing racism have their voices heard.

How does it work?

Local organisations in your community have undergone training to be available to record racist incidents. If you have experienced racism or witnessed a racist incident you can report it in a confidential safe environment. They will give you information as to the options available to you should you wish to pursue the issue.

Who will take the report?

A trained person working in a local community organisation will take the report in confidence.

What happens to my information?

The information will be forwarded to ENAR Ireland who is compiling a database to get a picture of how racism is occurring nationally. Your name will not be passed to ENAR Ireland only the details of the incident/experience.

What we do

The European Network Against Racism (ENAR) Ireland is a national network of anti-racist NGOs, which aims to work collectively to highlight and address the issue of racism in Ireland including through the promotion and monitoring of EU and global anti-racist initiatives. ENAR Ireland is the Irish National Coordination for the European Network Against Racism (ENAR) based in Brussels.

Our approach

ENAR Ireland's approach and key strategy is to work collectively as a strong national network and at the European level as the Irish coordination for the European network, ENAR. ENAR Ireland recognises that racism operates at the national, European and international levels and that these are all connected.

Through our established networks, ENAR Ireland focuses on work is at the national and European levels while also availing of opportunities at the international level where they arise. This strategy maximises use of our current resources.

European Network Against Racism (ENAR)

ENAR is a 700 plus network of organisations across the EU working to combat racism, within member states and at an EU level. For more about ENAR across the EU, visit the website: www.enar-eu.org
